Clarification to the NJDEP UST 14 Day Notification Requirement

When the NJDEP promulgated new UST Rules in 2018, a requirement for the notification of tank activities was added and became the responsibility of the tank owner and operator. In most cases, the certified contractor has been providing said notification, but there is a lot of confusion of when this notification is required and who is providing. To clarify, Brilliant has provided the following blog. For more information contact Phil Brilliant.
